Hearts and Trees.

From laughing lips of gray-eyed fhorn,
A frusher tide of life is gushing;
About the bottom of the thorh
The maiden bud is coyly birshing.

I feel upon me, like a hand Lifting me up, the weight of Spring; And as the baby leaves expand, My spirit seems awakening.

Hath, then, this mingled life of ours Aught of a tidal ebb and flow? Hath man a sympathy with flowers, And with them droop, revive and grow? It may be so; for life is life, Intense or subtle, less or more; And wages the eternal strife With death and darkness world all o'er.

In youth we seek towarve our name Deep-lettered on the hearts of worth, And fancy we may trace the same fill time restoreth earth to earth.

Nor know that, as on living tree, Rough bark will overgrow our toil, As surely will the world; and we But hall this knowledge with a smile:

A smile to think it 'scaped our sense; flow like in this were hearts and trees; So soft to court our confidence, So swift to hide our memories.

To the Citizens of South Carolina. The termination of a sanguinary contest, which for the past four years has presented an impassable barrier to all social or commercial intercourse between the two great acctions of our country, having at length impoly cleared away all obstacles to a re poral of those relations which formerly bound us together in a fraternal union, I take the carliest opportunity afforded me by this auspicious event, to greet my Southern friends, and to solicit from them a re-:ewal of that extensive business connection which for a quarter of a century has been son's Hotei.

MISCELLANY uninterrupted, save by the great public calamity to which I have adverted.

Ten scarcely necessary, on the threshold of a business re-union, I should repeat the warming so often given to my friends to beware of all those spurious and deleteri ous compounds which, under the specious and vialse titles of Imported Wines, Bran dies, Holland Gin, Liquors, &c.: have been equally destructive to the health of our citizens as prejudicial to the interests of the legitimate importer.

Many years of my past life have been expended in an open and candid attempt to expose these wholesale frauds; no time nor expense has been spared to accomplish this salutary purpose, and to place before my friends and the public generally, at the lowest possible market price, and in such quantities as might suit their convenience, a truly genuine imported article.

Twenty-five years' business transactions with the largest and most respectable exporting houses in France and Great Britain have afforded me unsurpassed facilities for supplying our home market with Wines, Liquors and Liqueres of the best and most approved brands in Europe, in addition to my own distillery in Holland for the manufacture of the "Schiedam Schnapps."

The latter, so long tested and approved by the medical faculties of the United States, West Indies and South America as an invaluable Therapeutic, a wholesome, pleasant and perfectly safe beverage in all climates and during all seasons, quickly excited the cupidity of the home manufacturers and venders of a spurious article under the same name,

I trust that I have, after much toil and expense, surrounded all my importations with safeguards and directions which, with ordinary circumspection, will insure their delivery, as I receive them from Europe, to all my customers.

I would, however, recommend, in all cases where it is possible, that orders be sent direct to my Depot, 22 Beaver street, New York, or that purchases be made of my accredited agents.

In addition to a large stock of Wines, Brandies, &c., in wood, I have a considerable supply of old tried foreign Wines, embracing vintages of many past years, bottled up before the commencement of the war, which I can especially recommend to all connoisseurs of these rare luxuries.

In conclusion, I would specially call the attention of my Southern customers to the advantage to be derived by transmitting their orders without loss of time, or calling personally at the Depot, in order to instresent large and well selected assortment. UDOLPHO WOLFE.
